

RAMPARTS AND VINEYARDS

The stone in this region has been shaped by glaciers but also by the Celts, Romans and the winemakers. Stone marks out these discovery routes in some rather unusual ways. It also gives the wines of this region their distinctive aroma. Stones, walls, castles and winehouses all bear witness to the history of the region, and are landmarks for the walker along this route which has some exceptional views over the plain of Alsace, and also some rather unexpected landscapes ...
